Letters

Dear Editor,

Recently, while I was walking to school, I slipped and broke my arm. I am writing with my "wrong" hand so I hope you can understand the words.

My Daddy filled in the voting coupon for me.

GRAHAM WALKER, Livingston.

Reckon you deserve a lucky "break" for your magnificent effort, pal, so we've printed your letter . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

I would like to tell readers about what my friends and I do for old people during the winter months. We visit them so they have someone to chat to, and our school also holds parties for the senior citizens.

TONY WILSON, Plaistow.

That's marvellous — well done! . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

I feel very sorry for you because cheeky Ossie calls you names like "Old Thingy". I think you might even be more handsome than him. I enclose a picture of my sister Donna and I (I am the blonde one).

PAULA GASKELL, Hertford.

Dear Editor,

One night, my Mum said I could stay up and watch the late film on TV. My brother Kevin said I would be frightened, and half-way through the film my dad asked if I wanted to go to bed. I replied: "Don't be silly. I get more frightened when I read SCREAM INN in WHOOPEE! / SHIVER 'n' SHAKE every week!"

ANNE KILDOFF, Bradford.

Wonder if your Dad or brother are brave enough to read it, Anne? . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

Recently, a boy named Martin Green wrote to you, and said that his hobby was collecting football programmes. Well, that's my hobby, too, and I can beat his total of 325. I have 430 at the last count.

MARK FORSTER, Carlisle.

I guess this collecting craze is going to be on the programme for a while to come . . . Editor.

Dear Editor,

Before we moved to Willington from Hounslow I had a dog, a budgie, thirteen guinea pigs and a ferret. Our ferret was really a cross between a ferret and a polecat. We called him Stupid.

COLIN NEWTON, Willington.

Stupid, eh? I suppose that's because he couldn't answer back . . . Editor.

OSSIE

HI, gang! Ossie here with news of my latest DISASTER.

Every Tuesday I have to collect the dirty hand towels from the rest of the staff, and swop them for clean ones.

Well, this week there was an added complication — I had to collect soap for everyone, too. Unfortunately, I dropped one bar in the corridor, and I'm sure I've no need to tell you WHO found it. His Sirship was striding along without a care in the World until his foot landed on the soap. Next thing, he did a sort of Olga Korbut somersault through the air and landed flat on his face.

Er . . . I don't think I'll ask for a rise THIS week!

Dear Ossie,

I like you very much, and I think you are great. You are much better than David Cassidy, Donny Osmond and everyone else.
PAULINE HALL, Birmingham.
Sensible girl . . . we think alike! . . . Ossie.

Dear Ossie,

I collect all sorts of things, like matchboxes, stamps, and comics, but my favourite collection of all is of World Wide Wierdies. I have them stuck all over my bedroom wall. I pity anyone who walks into my room at night.
PETER MILLS, Dover.
Bet they look great! I wonder if you've got the Wanted Poster of me up there with them, too? . . . Ossie.

Dear Ossie,

This is my first attempt to win 50p.
I do hope that I'll succeed,
if so I'll dance with glee.
I couldn't think of anything to write about my family,
And so I wrote this poem,
just for you and me!
MONICA SITFORD, Framfield.
Roses are red, violets are blue
50p is on its way to you! . . . Ossie.
